Same card for a marketer (adds area + days out) and a prospect (name + phone typed at hand-out). ← Mark returned ticks the lines that came back.

Steps: size → quantity → shade (the design's shades + Whole design) → recipient. Customer and marketer are picked from the existing lists; a prospect is typed: name, then phone.

The office figure is the guard. Nothing goes negative, nothing is debited twice.

Storage: Inventory gains ONE trailing column X catalogues_received (raw B12 S30 on the design's first row per container per warehouse); hand-outs stay in the existing CatalogLedge sheet, which gains one trailing Shade column and a third recipient type prospect (name + phone). Every figure on cards 1–4 is computed when the card is drawn. Access: the storekeeper of a warehouse (Users column I) logs  Received and  Give out for that warehouse; the office manager approves; the office is the reporting point for all its warehouses. Rulings needed: (1) customer hand-outs — approve or immediate? (2) a catalogue = one design, or one shade? (3) who is "the manager of the office" in the Users sheet — the manages relation, or a department?
